The carriage of a buzz-saw doesn't move very fast, but if a man says so it long enough he will presently be sawn asunder. The process of gradual bodily decline and loss of energy which leads finally to consumption is not always very rapid, but if it is stopped it will prevent the body from its way into the most vital part of the body, the lungs. There would be very little consumption if every family would keep Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house, and use it whenever feeling "out of sorts." It keeps the entire body in such a high condition of health and forcefulness that wasting diseases have no chance to get a foot-hold. A teaspoonful or two before meals, in a little water, gives the digestive organism power to assimilate the blood-making, nerve-toning, strength-building properties of the food. It enables the liver and excretory system to clear the circulation of bilious poisons and remove all waste matter from the body. It replaces worn out tissue with hard muscular flesh, and changes weakness and debility into active power and nerve force. The originator of this great "Discovery," R. V. Pierce, M. D., is chief consulting physician at the Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., at the head of a staff of nearly a score of eminent associate physicians and surgeons. He has acquired, in his over thirty years of active practice, a reputation second to no living physician in the treatment of bilious, chronic diseases. His prescription must not be confounded with the numerous "boom" remedies, "cures," "compounds," and "cures" which a profit-seeking druggist is often ready to urge as a substitute. Dr. Pierce's medicines are the product of wide experience and deep study. Any one who may consult him by mail free of charge.

A THIEVES' HARVEST.

THE PICKPOCKETS FLOCKED TO THE MACE-COBURN FIGHT.

It Was Probably the Greatest Gathering of Light Fingerted Artists on Record—Some of the Amusing Incidents of an Eventful Day.

"The greatest gathering of pickpockets that I ever saw, and, I dare say, the greatest bunch that ever assembled, was at the Mace-Coburn fight at Long Point, Canada, on May 11, 1871," said a detective who has been in the business since 1855. "The big fight was held in the vicinity of the old light-house on Long Point, and the only way to get to the ground was by boat from Erie or Buffalo or by walking a good many miles through Canada. The boat that left Buffalo carried in the neighborhood of 1,000 persons. The fact that there were a large number of thieves on the vessel was noised about, and the gamblers kept their hands on their valuables all the time. Strange to say, not a touch was made on the way over.

"Two vessels, both loaded to their fullest capacity, left Erie, Pa., and each of these carried a number of pickpockets. There were about a dozen detectives in the crowd, among them being Detective Patrick V. Cnsack of Buffalo, Captain Rogers and Detective Sullivan of Rochester and a few detectives from Erie, Pa., and Toronto, Ont. They knew that there was no use in trying to put a check on the work of the crooks, because there were at least 300 professional pickpockets in the crowd. Just after the spectators began taking their places about the ringside the sheriff got in the ring and made a speech like this:

"I wish to warn every one against pickpockets. There are hundreds of them here."

"The sheriff stepped out of the ring and several men grouped about him. The central figure of the group was a crook known as Papes. When the sheriff got out of the mix his diamond stud, his roll of bills and his watch were missing. He made known his loss to one of the detectives, and the detective volunteered to recover the property. The detective was Captain Rogers. He sought Papes, explained the situation to him and Papes immediately turned over the sheriff's property, saying that he had taken it just for a joke.

"I can't begin to tell you how many pockets were picked this day. The fight waxed warm and every one was excited, so the crooks had a fine field to work in. Pocketbooks were actually flying in the air. Men were accusing honest men who sat beside them of touching them. Scores of diamond studs were unscrewed and nipped. The most humorous incident of the day was the theft of $200 in bills from a thief who hailed from St. Louis and was unknown to the New York delegation. A New York man named O'Donoghue had got the St. Louis thief's roll, and he returned it when he learned his mistake. Some men were stripped of everything they had and were unable to buy a meal or a drink. In such cases the crooks helped them along with a small loan, as they termed it. The referee of the match was relieved of his diamond. His bills were in an inside pocket and were not touched.

"Business lagged with the thieves after the fight was over. There were but few pockets left to pick. Several men who had been robbed insisted that the honest men should band together and attack the thieves for the purpose of recovering the stolen property. The detectives opposed this on the ground that the honest men and the pickpockets were mingled so closely as not to be distinguishable, and, moreover, the thieves could fight and would fight.

"All the thieves returned to Buffalo after the fight, and word of their coming was sent to police headquarters from the first landing place. When the boat tied up at the foot of Main street, a hundred policemen and all the detective force were there to meet it. About 300 or 350 thieves were marched on two abreast and lined up on the wharf. They were told that they were to be escorted out of town, and they made no protest. With the policemen and detectives as herders and drivers, the crooks were marched to the central station and corralled there under close guard. When a train for New York was made up, the thieves were escorted aboard it and were watched till it reached the city line.

"A few years later a big gang of pickpockets went to another fight at Long Point, but in size and expertness it did not approach the gang that went to the Mace-Coburn fight. At the Hamilton-Courtney boxing match at Chautauqua Lake was another big gathering of pickpockets. They had things their own way and reaped a big harvest. For instance, a detective's pocket was picked, but the thief who did the job was induced to return the property. Five minutes later the detective's pocket was picked a second time, and he was so chagrined that he did not endeavor to recover the plunder. But, as I said, the greatest gathering was at the Mace-Coburn fight. It was the last great rally of the topnotch crooks, and if you ask any old time crook he will tell you how he longs for another such expedition. It will never be. There are too many detectives now."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Appendicitis.

Appendicitis is not the surely fatal disease it has been often regarded. Professor Nothagel of Vienna finds that not less than 80 per cent of the cases run a simple course and recover under purely medical treatment. He states that opiate should be given, but no purgatives. There need be no uneasiness if the patient has no movement of the bowels for six or eight days.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Modern Surgery.

"The average man would be greatly surprised to know how far the surgical world has moved in the last quarter of a century," said a prominent New Orleans practitioner. "It is hard to realize, even for one in the profession. We do things as a matter of course at present that only a few years ago would have been looked upon as downright murder. 'I remember back in the seventies I was called to attend a man who was shot through the intestines with buckshot, making a number of perforations. I promptly opened the abdominal cavity and sewed up the wounds, which at that time was regarded as a wildly daring operation. The man died from unavoidable complications, and his friends were determined to prosecute me for killing him. In fact, I had a close squeak from unpleasant consequences, for a great many other surgeons condemned my procedure in the severest terms.

"Just think of it! Today things are exactly reversed, and a surgeon who failed to open the abdomen in such a case would undoubtedly be punished for malpractice. This is one instance out of many. It is no exaggeration to say that the modern surgeon saves thousands of lives that his earlier brothers would have abandoned without an effort. 'Necessarily fatal' would have been the verdict and the sufferer assisted into the valley of the shadow by a merciful epitaph."

A tax in India is levied on all incomes of £23 and upward, and then only one man in 700 comes within its scope.

TRUE HEROISM.

Arthur Real, the brave engineer, who was killed in the wreck last Tuesday, was of the clay from which true heroes are moulded. When the locomotive left the rails, with wonderful presence of mind, and still more wonderful courage, he reversed the engine, and put on the air brakes, which saved the passenger coaches, laden with human freight, from utter demolition and those on board from certain and horrible death. No thought of saving his own life by leaping from the cab, as he doubtless could have done, but with a sense of duty, which was no less than inspiration, his only thought was for those whose lives were in his keeping, and he bravely met his death while performing his noble work.

It is no detractor from the fame or glory of Dewey to say that Arthur Deal's last trip on engine number 1815 was a greater achievement from a heroic standpoint, than that of the great Admiral when he sailed into Manila harbor over the supposed net work of wires communicating with instruments of destruction, which might destroy his fleet and the lives of all on the ships. The admiral took desperate chances, but no more than the humble sailor in his fleet, while the engineer, without a quiver, or thought for himself went alone to certain death. Dewey hazarded his life for his country, Arthur Deal sacrificed his for a hundred of his fellow men might live. Both men were heroes. But who shall say that the act of the humble engineer is not entitled to as honorable mention in the book of the Recording Angel as that of the great naval officer, whose achievement won for him the plaudits of the nation, and the highest honors that the government he served could bestow?

WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

War appears imminent in South Africa between the Boers and Great Britain. England shows no signs of yielding in any demand she has made on the Transvaal, and the Boers appear equally determined to fight to the bitter end rather than submit to terms which involve national humiliation. They subdued a wilderness to found their country to which they are patriotically devoted, and they will lay down their lives to hold it and in defense of their liberties.

England has made arrangements for the mobilization of an army, large enough in numbers to march through the Boer possessions and leave enough behind to hold all of the conquered towns of the country.

It will be a contest, or hardly that, between a great and powerful nation against a small but brave and determined band of patriots, who are ready to die upon their thresholds before yielding their homes to the ravages or occupancy of the invaders.

The cause of the Boers is right and just, but right and justice will avail nothing against might and wrong. The result is inevitable. The Boers will be vanquished, and will have the choice between utter extermination, submission to the rule of Great Britain, or flight into another wilderness, there to wrest a new republic from the black savages and wild beasts, to be again driven out, after a few years, by the more relentless British lion, which is ever upon their track. The latter will probably be the result, which is only a repetition of the history of the Boers since their first settlements in the southern portion of the Dark Continent.

C. C. WALLACE says injustice has been done him by the JOURNAL and other papers in charging him with being the cause of the veto of the constitutional convention bill. He says that he had nothing whatever to do with it. He says, furthermore, that he was opposed to the bill creating the office of cattle inspector, and also the one donating to the Lieutenant Governor $1,800 a year. We cheerfully give Oberley the benefit of his disclaimer—as we would if he had assured us that he wasn't in Carson at all last winter.

It is expected that the coming census will show that the center of population is traveling steadily westward. In 1890 it hauled near Greensburg, Indiana, and if it keeps its record it ought to reach Reno about the middle of the twentieth century.

W. T. STEAD writes the American papers of the "great success of the Peace Conference." Inasmuch as about all the positive work that has been done by the Conference is the sanction of the use of the inhuman dum-dum bullet, one cannot see where in Mr. Stead can find anything in the Conference worthy of praise.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

You are mistaken. The Peace Conference has virtually increased the private property at the expense of the public property, by refusing to adopt the same rule as upon the water, the land.

It is used to be said on the plains, in all team navigation times, "when the Sioux and Snakes join in council, white men look out for your scalp." When Elkins and Alger join political hands, something is bound to pop, and somebody is likely to get badly hurt.

Pat Kervin's Will.

The will of Patrick Kervin, late of Virginia City, has been filed for probate. It disposes of an estate amounting to about $80,000, the principal property being improved realty in Salt Lake City. The balance of the estate consists of local securities. Pending the distribution the entire income is given to the widow, Minnie Kervin. When the eldest child, if a boy, becomes thirty years, or if a girl, twenty-eight years, then the estate is to be divided, half to the widow and the other half in equal shares to the three children, Mary Kervin, Henry Patrick Kervin and Margaret Hope Kervin. The Union Trust Company of San Francisco is appointed executor.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children when teething. It disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it mothers there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation and gives Tone and Energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

For Admittance to the Bar.

Charles Knox, Thurm De la Matry, W. H. A. Pike and Marcus Fredricka left for Carson on the local yesterday afternoon to take the examination given by the Supreme Court for admittance to the bar of Nevada.

As all of the young men are thoroughly familiar with law and have been for some time industriously preparing themselves for the test, it is safe to predict that Reno will have another aggregation of rising young legal lights to assist in illuminating the somewhat mystic statutes of Nevada.

Journalistic Miscreancy.

The Virginia Report, envious of Reno, discredits the kissing bug's materialization in our beautiful and flourishing town. It intimates that the osculatory insect described was nothing but a bed bug which had strayed up here from the Asylum. The contumacious miscreancy of some Nevada newspaper writers is enough to make a man wish that the Otis censorship might be extended over the length and breadth of Mr. Huntington's battle-born State.

A Disappearing Steer.

George W. West, the well known Live Oak county stockman, has perhaps the finest specimen of that fast disappearing breed of cattle known as the long horn in Texas. It is a steer now sixteen years old, with horns that measure eight feet seven inches from tip to tip. Mr. West has kept the animal as a curiosity and to see how long its horns will really grow.—Jackson county, Texas, Progress.

Men Wanted.

A. J. McCone has been authorized by the projectors of the pulp and paper mill at Floriston to employ men for them at the rate of $2 per day and board. This is a good chance for local youth to obtain employment. Floriston is only a short distance west of Verdi, and therefore easy of access to men really desirous of obtaining employment.—Virginia Report.

Justice Court.

The case of William Smith was taken up and tried before a jury, resulting in a report of three for conviction and nine for acquittal. Smith is charged with stealing a gold ring from a woman named Louisa Musick.

Sensational Prediction.

The Elko Independent says: It is reported around town that a railroad man made the prediction that there would be forty more wrecks on the Central Pacific within the next thirty days.

BREVITIES.

J. Smith went to Carson yesterday, returning last night.

Lloyd Tevis left an estate valued at $200,000. What a harvest for the lawyers!

The widow and children of the late J. H. McMillan are visiting friends in Wintemueca.

Judge Cheney went to Carson yesterday on legal business, returning last evening.

Mrs. D. Bidehour of Reno is visiting relatives and friends at Susanville, says the Mail.

Bob Grimmer of the Arlington Hotel in Carson has purchased the Smith ranch in Smith's Valley.

Louis Dean left for Honey Lake Valley on the N.-O.-O. yesterday morning. He goes to purchase cattle.

County Commissioner A. H. Anderson left for Reno last Wednesday in search of medical aid.—Belmont Courier.

Miss Mary North returned to San Francisco last evening, having concluded her visit to her mother, Mrs. G. North.

Frank Young, the Southern Pacific telegraph operator and night agent, has departed for San Francisco on a trip for his health.

Miss Louisa Sissa, one time a student at Whittaker's seminary in Reno, arrived from Tacoma yesterday and is visiting old-time friends.

No State in the Union can make a better showing in the development of its mines for the six months just passed than can Nevada.

Dixon Bros. have just purchased 100 head of prime beef cattle from Lewis Bros. of Loyalton. They will be butchered and retailed in Reno.

Two carloads of Vermont granite passed through Reno a few days ago, to be used in the foundation of the new San Francisco postoffice.

In the public schools in Switzerland "heat holidays" are recognized by law. When the thermometer goes above a certain point school is dismissed.

Those automobilists who are traveling from New York to San Francisco would probably make better "head-way" if they turned the other way.

Ireland and Elko county are about equally blest. In the former there are no snakes, and, according to the Wells Herald, there are no idle men in Elko.

The Salvador Congress has passed a law forbidding the meeting of Masonic lodges in that country. It was done to gratify a personal spite of President Regalado against General Jenkins, the American Consul.

Hon. O. H. Gray of Carson came down on last evening's V. & T. The JOURNAL scribe politely asked O. H. what he was down here on, and was told that it was none of his business; from which the J. S. inferred it was on some matters political.

The Fight to Create Life.

The mind that Wohler had obtained. In 1828, out of inorganic stuffs a certain substance, urea, which occurs in nature as a distinct product of vital activity in animals, upset current ideas. Then, later on, Liebig in Germany and Frankland in this country made several important syntheses, and in 1860 Berthelot published his epoch making work, "Organic Chemistry Based Upon Synthesis," in which he proved that the synthesis of organic bodies must be pursued and may be achieved in a quite systematic way, going step by step over the whole series of organic compounds.

At the present time about 180 different acids, aromatic oils, fats, coloring matters, and so on, which are only found in nature as products of vital activity, have already been prepared in our laboratories out of inorganic matter. Some of them are already fabricated in this way for trade. Every year brings some new achievement in the same direction; so that the main interest now lies, not so much in adding a new product to the already long list of chemically prepared organic substances, as in catching the secrets of the tiny living laboratories in the vegetable and animal cells.—Prince Krapotkin in Nineteenth Century.

A Bloodthirsty Editor.

A down east editor has drawn up some new game laws which he wants adopted. The following is a summary: "Book agents may be killed from Oct. 1 to Sept. 1; spring poets, from March 1 to June 1; scandal mongers from April 1 to Feb. 1; umbrella borrowers, from Aug. 1 to Nov. 1 and Feb. 1 to May 1, while every man who accepts a newspaper two years, and, upon being presented with his bill, says, 'I never ordered it' may be killed on the spot, without reserve or relief."—Christian Register.

Next Thing to It.

Ho—Oh, by the way, the doctor advised me to eat a water cracker before going to bed; said it would prevent my insomnia. Are there any in the house?

She—The only thing in the house approaching a water cracker is the ice pick.—Indianapolis Journal.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes W. H. Stapleton, Herminie, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have not hold of." One application relieves the pain. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

There is no better medicine for the Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than the pleasant taste and Remedy. Its cures make it a prompt and effective and small child-favorite with mothers. Their coughs are quickly cured. It cures colds and colds, preventing pneumonia and other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all its dangerous consequences. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

Will Give a Recital.

Miss Mable Stanaway, Reno's sweet songstress, left for Carson on the local yesterday afternoon. She will give a song recital to-night at the Capital City assisted by Miss Enid Williams, who is well known in Reno as a skillful pianist.

Miss Stanaway's wonderful ability has attracted much attention in the east, winning praise from Nordica and other masters of grand opera. She was graduated last year with high honor from Boston Conservatory of Music, after which she was immediately tendered an engagement with the choir of the First Baptist Church of Boston. This she accepted, as it offered facilities to remain in Boston and continue the cultivation of her voice under competent teachers. She has several times refused offers from light opera companies, and acting on the advice of Lillian Nordica, queen of the grand opera, who was so delighted with Miss Stanaway's beautiful soprano she will endeavor to secure the means to go to Europe and prepare for grand opera under some one of the great continental masters.

In the near future Miss Stanaway will give a recital in Reno, where her many old time friends will be given an opportunity to hear her sing.

The Nevada Magazine.

The first number of the Nevada Magazine of Nevada has been issued and will be ready for delivery to-day. It contains nearly one hundred pages of choice reading matter. It is handsomely illustrated, and its typographical appearance commends it to the admiration of all judges of the preservative art. It is essentially what its title designates—a Nevada magazine. All of the mechanical work was done in the State; its contributors are all residents of Nevada and its pages are devoted to the interest of our battle-born commonwealth. Among the contributors are the names of Hon. F. H. Norcross, Frederick R. Marvin, Wm. McClure Gottwaldt, George H. Maxwell, Sam P. Davis, Miss Stella N. Webster, May Ethelyn Bourne, Aimee Alice Sherman, Robert Lewers, Hon. R. L. Fulton, ex-Governor R. K. Colecord, Jas. A. Yerington, Hon. W. Webster, Alf Chantz, L. H. Taylor, S. B. Cohen and C. D. Van Duzer.

The proprietors are Van Duzer and Haley and their venture will certainly be crowned with success, if the first number is an indication of what is to follow. The subscription price is only $1.25 a year, single copies 15 cents each. Miss Claire Dickinson is sole agent for Reno.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is rivited, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store.

ALFRED NELSON.

Nearly Drowned.

Yesterday's Carson Appeal contains the following:

Word came from Washoe Lake last evening to the effect that Louis Legree of Silver City had nearly met his death by drowning. He and a companion were swimming and Legree got beyond his depth and went down. His companion went to his rescue, and, as Legree was sinking the last time, managed to get him out. When word was received last night a number of people were working on the young man and hopes were entertained for his recovery. The scene of the accident is near the club house, and it is supposed that help had been secured from that place.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1898, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expectorate something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. S. Edwards, publisher of the Review, Wyant, Ill. For sale by W. Pinniger.

Wadsworth Accident.

An accident happened last Tuesday morning in the Wadsworth yard which resulted in the destruction of a caboose. The caboose of Conductor Hale, attached to the head of an engine, and a light engine tried to pass each other on the same track, and as a consequence the car can now be used for firewood.

House Breakers in Reno.

Burglars entered the house of Frank Lee Thursday morning; went through the bureau drawers in Mrs. Lee's bedroom and were going through the closet of Mr. Lee's room when they were frightened away by coughing and made their escape, taking with them a valuable gold watch belonging to Mr. Lee.

Without doubt it was the intention of the thieves to plunder the house, and if it had not been for the fact that Mrs. Lee's little daughter is ill with the whooping cough they would have stolen many valuables.

Whether one burglar or more were at work is not known. They left the house by the front door. This is the second time Mr. Lee has been robbed this year, on the former occasion the burglars secured $30 in coin.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. O. Hannick & Co. of Shelby N. O. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

State Agency.

The Reno Mercantile Company has taken the agency for the celebrated Bartlett Springs mineral water. This water is well known throughout the country, and the springs in California have gained renown for their curative qualities, hundreds of tourists from different parts of the world flocking there every year in search of health. It is said the water when bottled retains all its mineral qualities when shipped to a distance, so gives the user the same benefits he would receive at the famous springs.

Dumped Into a Well.

A Chinese cook employed at Fred Wilson's ranch near Tuscarora got into a row Monday with one of the hay shovellers and made for him with a knife. The hay shoveller got out of the way and uppeared the Mongolian under the chin, knocking him down. He then took him by the nose of the neck and the slack of the trousers and dumped him into an old well. The Chinaman soon cooled off and crawled out a wetter and wiser man.

French Tansy Wafers.

The world's famous remedy for painful period and irregularities, regardless of cause, are never failing and safe. The wafers are the married woman's best friend. Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters have cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent. This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson's Druggist Guaranteed.

Closing Out.

I am closing out my entire stock of dry goods at actual wholesale cost for cash only; for the purpose of re-opening next door when the building is finished, with altogether new fall and winter goods. Everybody should take advantage of this sale. Every article, from the finest dress goods and silks to the simplest domestic goods and fancy goods, is reduced to cost price and must be sold before removing. jyl11f S. EMERSON.

A Sure Shot.

The best cure for the whisky habit is to get broke. Then no one will ask you to drink, the barkeeper won't trust you and you will have no money to buy booze. Try it, and you will find it easier to quit the pernicious habit than to continue it. The writer speaks from experience.
